Admiral Togo adds that none of the Japanese ships were injured. Griscom states that at the time the message was sent the battle report of the losses sustained by the Russian fleet. "In my opinion," he continued, "victory for the Japanese may be attributed to their training and preparedness. The same spirit was doubtless exhibited there that they carried with them in their assaults of Port Arthur."

URGE TEAMSTERS TO STILL FIGHT

Sympathizers Pledge Their Support To The Teamsters In Their Struggle Against the Employers.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE]

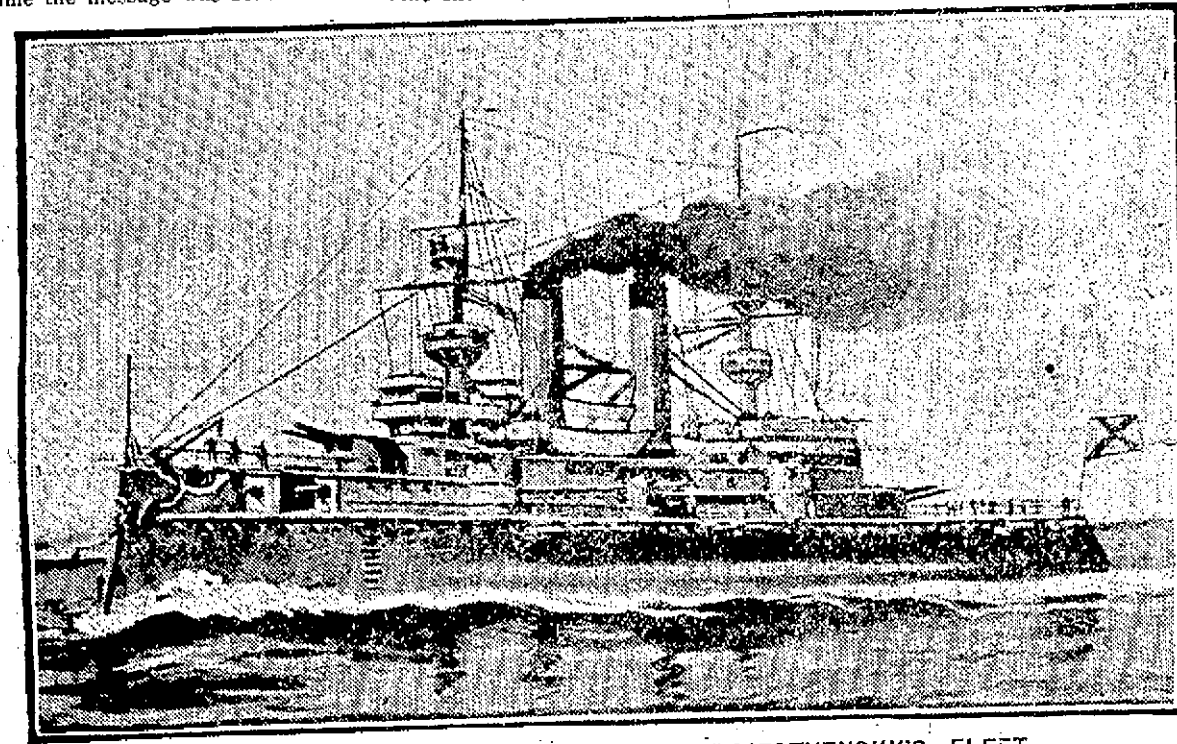

Chicago, May 29.—"Stick out until after July 4." This was the message sent Sunday to revive the fighting spirit of the striking teamsters by the delegate labor convention held at Bricklayers' hall. The appeal to the strikers to prolong the struggle was accompanied by promises of support. The meeting, held behind closed doors, contrary to the usual custom, was enthusiastic, but not well attended. About half the seats were occupied, less than 300 persons being present.

The request to the teamsters to continue their struggle until after July 4 was made in an indirect manner. After President Shea of the teamsters, President Dold of the Federation of is to make more effective the boycott of the big State street houses affected by the strike. This the leaders of the federation were careful to refrain from stating, however, as they feared that the law might be invoked against them if they did. It was because of this fear that the arrangement for the extension of the boycott were made behind closed doors instead of in open meeting.

Mass-Meeting

"We will tell the people of these mass meetings to stay away from the downtown stores and patronize those in the outlying districts," said President Dold. "Many of them are already doing it but we want more to patronize the small neighborhood de-

Griscom's Report

London Reports

London, May 29.—The reports current on the stock exchange purporting to come from authoritative private sources says Rojestvensky's flagship Kiaz Souvaroff was among the vessels sunk and that Togo is following up the Russians and picking off the ships one by one. On the exchange this morning Consols went up five-sixteenths and Japanese bonds rose from two to three and a half points.

Official Report

Tokio, May 29.—It is officially announced that Rojestvensky's fleet is practically annihilated.

Express Satisfaction

Washington, May 29.—Minister Takahira this morning expressed satisfaction at the reports of the Japanese victory. The minister and other members of the Japanese legation were in the offices nearly all night eagerly awaiting news of the battle. Minister Takahira is expecting momentarily definite news of the fight.

Second Battle

Tsingtau, May 29.—According to a Chinese telegram another naval battle is on near Oki island. It is believed this engagement is on a larger scale than the one in the straits of Tsushima. The Japanese losses, so far stated, are said to be one cruiser and ten torpedo boats.

ADMIRAL TOGO.

ASSEMBLY CHEERS NEWS OF VICTORY

Automobile Bill Ready to Go to the Governor for His Signature Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., May 29.—Two debates marked the opening session of the assembly for the week, one on the ad valorem telephone taxation bill and one on the fish hatchery bill. Assemblyman Thomas led a successful fight to have the real estate of telephone and telegraph companies assessed and taxed locally rather than by the state. He was opposed by Assemblyman Dahl of the committee on taxes, who argued that the tax commission preferred the work of assessment of these properties be not confused by taxing part locally and part by the state. The Thomas amendment was adopted and the bill as amended advanced to engrossment. Assemblyman Coffland wanted money for the building of bass and trout fish hatcheries all taken from the hunting-license fund rather than $5,000 from the general fund and $5,000 from the hunting-license fund. His amendment was defeated by a vote of 31 to 23. There seemed to be danger of defeating the bill as amended and on motion of Mr. Chandler the measure was laid over until Wednesday. The senate amendments to the automobile registration and regulation bill was concurred in. The measure now goes to the governor. The joint resolution to submit to the people the proposition to hold a constitutional convention was adopted. The senate had not a quorum and adjourned until Wednesday. The news of the utter defeat of the Russian fleet was read to the assembly amid great cheering.

To Reduce Bankruptcy Expenses.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 29.—The National Association of Referees in Bankruptcy opened its fifth annual convention at the International Hotel here today. President William H. Hotchkiss, of Buffalo, N. Y., presiding. This organization of its former conventions have had an important and healthful influence upon the course of bankruptcy legislation and administration.

The opening address today was delivered by Hon. E. M. Bassett, who formerly represented the Fifth New York District in Congress. The convention will take up especially the discussion of certain features of the Bankruptcy Act, which it thought can be improved upon and strengthened. It will be suggested that expenses in bankruptcy cases can be reduced by restricting receivership expenses; by limiting the expense of trustees' sales; by providing a simpler method of administering small bankruptcies. Other matters relating to this subject will also be discussed at length.

Auction Off Bigelow's Stock.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 29.—According to a petition granted recently by Referee Maxwell, forty-eight shares of stock in the First National Bank of this city were sold at auction today, as a part of the estate of former president Frank Bigelow of the bank, who embezzled over $1,500,000 of the institution's funds. The stock was sold at auction at its par value—$4,800. It is understood that the stock was purchased by persons interested in the bank's interests.

Labor and other speakers had addressed the meeting a motion was made to arrange for a demonstration of trade unionists and strike sympathizers. This motion named July 4 as the day on which the demonstration was to be held.

Jefferie Strike Will Last.

"When we selected July 4 for the demonstration it was because we believed that the strike will still be on then," said President Charles Dold of the Federation of Labor. "I am confident that the teamsters will stick until then, and there seems to be no possibility of the employers yielding."

"We will have the parade on July 4 whether the strike is on or not," said E. J. Neckels of the federation. "It will be labor's independence day. The parade will be the greatest one that has ever marched through the streets of Chicago. It will be bigger than the Labor day parade which we intend to have later on."

In addition to arranging for the July 4 demonstration the delegate convention made plans to hold mass meetings in all parts of the city within the next few days. These demonstrations are to be held on the north, west, north and south sides. All union men and strike sympathizers will be invited to them. They will be addressed by the strike leaders.

Happy Despite Ambassador's Snub.

Washington, May 29.—Lieut. von Bredow, of the German army and his bride, formerly Miss Frances Newlands, daughter of United States Senator Newlands, of Nevada, left here today for New York, from whence they will sail for Germany. Quite a sensation was created here a few weeks ago when the couple was married because the Baron von Sternberg did not attend the wedding, as Lieut. von Bredow was a former attaché at the German Legation here. It is understood that Von Sternberg disliked the lieutenant because the latter was among those who resented his accusation to Dr. von Holleben as German ambassador to the U. S.

"On Satan's Mount."

Boston, Mass., May 29.—The dramatization of Dwight Tilton's new novel, "On Satan's Mount," will be produced for the first time at the Hollis Street Theatre tonight. The cast is headed by John E. Kellard, ers and to keep away from those in the downtown district.

Another scheme to have the boycott effective that was approved of by the convention was the placing of cards bearing the inscription: "No goods received here from scabs" in the windows of the homes of every unionist and strike sympathizer. It was announced that 100,000 of these cards would be distributed.

Strike Among Teamsters.

The political strife in the teamsters' organization threatens to have a depressing effect on the strike. The action of the executive board in taking charge of the strike is generally construed as a slap at Shea.

"The action of the executive board in taking charge of the strike," said Shea, "is nothing unusual. Every organization has an executive board vested with authority. I am a member of that board and the right given me by the constitution of the organization to supervise a strike cannot be taken from me except at a general convention. I will consult with the executive board, however, regarding every move that is made in the strike."

Charles Dold, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, declared that Shea is still the ruling spirit in the strike, notwithstanding the transfer of authority to the executive board.

Mrs. Flagler's Sister Wants Freedom.

Wilmington, N. C., May 29.—Society in this and other states is intensely interested in the case of Mrs. Jessie Wise, sister-in-law of Henry M. Flagler, the Standard Oil magnate and railroad man, who is seeking freedom from her husband, J. C. Wise. The case comes up this week, probably tomorrow. Wise is a member of a prominent family and his wife's application for a decree caused great surprise. He is regarded as one of the handsomest men in the state. Mrs. Wise was Miss Keenan before marriage, her only sister being the wife of Henry M. Flagler, whose marriage followed his divorce of his wife on the ground of insanity, created a sensation a few years ago. Mr. Flagler, it is alleged, had a special law passed by the legislature of Florida making insanity a cause for divorce in order that he could remarry.

SUMMER SCHOOL AT UNIVERSITY

WHAT THE STATE INSTITUTION OFFERS FOR SUMMER COURSE.

MUCH INTERESTING WORK

Prominent Educators From All Over the Country Will Conduct Classes.

Madison, May 29.—The program for the seventh annual summer session of the University of Wisconsin, just completed, contains a number of additional features together with a detailed statement of the courses in all departments of instruction. Among the additional members of the faculty for the summer term is Dr. B. Estes Howard, the well-known publicist and lecturer of Cambridge, Mass., who will take the place of Major Evan R. Jones. Owing to ill health, Major Jones has been compelled to abandon his trip to this country, and Dr. Howard has, therefore, been engaged as lecturer on contemporary German and English politics. Dr. Howard has made a special study of German political conditions and is just completing a voluminous treatise on the German constitution. The programme of courses in the new department of manual training for teachers just announced by Professor L. H. Burch of the Western Illinois State Normal School and Professor J. D. Phillips of the College of Engineering, who are in charge of this work, covers all phases of the teaching of manual training, in grade, high, and normal schools.

Contemporary Politics. The special lectures, according to the new programme, have been so correlated as to cover the whole field of contemporary politics. Dr. Howard will treat contemporary political conditions in Great Britain and Germany; Professor Alice Porteus of Tulane University will speak on contemporary French institutions and politics; Professor William H. Carruth of the University of Kansas will present some aspects of social and economic life in Germany of today; and Professor Paul S. Reinsch in a series of lectures, will cover the field of relations of Great Britain, Russia, United States, and France to the far eastern nations. In view of the increased attention that is being given to contemporary, social and political conditions, these lectures will be of particular interest to teachers.

Manual Training Courses. The courses in manual training for teachers as outlined by Professor Burch of the Western Illinois Normal School, and Professor J. B. Phillips of the Department of Mechanical Drawing in the College of Engineering, include lectures and practice work in all phases of manual training from that taught in the lowest grades to the supervision of grade and high school work. Among the courses under Professor Burch are those in the development and organization of manual training, and manual training for elementary schools, which will embrace everything from paper cutting and folding, weaving and basketry, and clay-modelling, to bench work and elementary mechanical drawing. The high school courses will consist of work in free-hand and mechanical drawing under the direction of Professor Phillips, and bench work working with machine, forge and foundry work, and pattern and tool making. In the seminars for teachers and supervisors of manual training will be discussed methods and courses in manual training schools, the correlation of manual training with other subjects, and the scope of elementary high school and technical training.

Special Training for Artisans. The term of the fifth annual session of the summer school for artisans under the auspices of the college of engineering has been arranged to correspond with that of the summer session, which extends from June 26 to August 4. The work now completely outlined for this summer includes many courses of interest and value to mechanical and electrical workers. As in previous years the courses provided are designed to give instruction to a large number of men, employed in mechanical and electrical plants who are unable to avail themselves of the regular four year courses in engineering. By thus supplementing the individual study carried on often in connection with correspondence schools, the summer's work in the school for artisans often makes it possible for these men to obtain much more responsible positions. The main divisions of the work include the subjects of engines and boilers, applied electricity, machine design, materials of construction, fuel and shop work. Whenever it is necessary, and possible to do so, the classes will be divided into elementary and advanced sections in order to meet the requirements of all students. The laboratory work, however, is largely individual, and thus a student may take advantage of all the preparation that he has received.

"LE TABAC EST L'AMI DE L'HOMME."

French Proverb That Proves Itself True in Janesville.

There is a French proverb, "Tobacco is the friend of man," that is more true than the average. Man is the only being that smokes. Monkeys have imitated man in all other ways, even acquiring a fondness for liquors, but they never could be taught smoking. Smoking is a distinctly masculine pleasure, and when man has a good cigar like Wadsworth Bros' Chicos in his mouth, he is care free and ready for any trouble. Smith Drug Co., the local agents for Chicos, say that many of their lawyer customers will not take a difficult case until they have a box of Chicos at hand. From pure enjoyment any lover of a good cigar can be no more perfectly satisfied than with a Wadsworth Bros' Chicos.

Go to Smith Drug Co.'s drug store today and select one of these 5c Havana filled cigars. The price, 5c straight, will not frighten you.

ceived. As all the laboratories of the college of engineering will be opened to the students in the summer school for artisans, they will have practically all the opportunities for practical work which the students in regular engineering enjoy.

Dormitory For Students. It has been decided to open Chadbourne hall this year to young women students in the summer session, and those occupying rooms in this building will be under the immediate charge of the mistress of the hall. Board will also be provided and a new feature in this connection will be the arrangement for conversation in French and German at different tables, to be led by instructors in these languages. For those interested in the study of German there will also be the weekly meetings of the Germanische Gesellschaft, the regular organization of students and instructors of German, the programmes of which will consist of German lectures, music, singing, and social intercourse. Excursions to points of interest in and about Madison for those interested in geology, botany, zoology, and other sciences will be another feature that will combine recreation with instruction.

Prizes For 'Varsity Orators. Mr. Albert O. Trostel, the well-known (owner of Milwaukee, has presented the University of Wisconsin with a fund of $500, with which to establish prizes for the encouragement of intercollegiate oratory and debate. The sum of $100 will be given annually in the form of medals or other prizes for those representing the university in intercollegiate oratorical and debating contests. The first award will be made at the close of the present collegiate year, when medals will be given to William J. Hagenah, Madison; Eben R. Minahan, Green Bay; Michael B. Olbrich, Harvard, Ill., members of last year's successful debating team against the University of Michigan; and to Ira B. Cross, Canton, Ill.; Rolland C. Allen, Dayton; Max Loeb, Appleton; members of this year's team. Medals for oratory will be presented to Henry C. Duke, Wisconsin's representative in the intercollegiate contest last year, and Max Loeb, of Appleton, who won the Northern Oratorical League Contest for Wisconsin this year. This is the third gift of the kind that the university has received this year. Mr. Hagenah, a student of Madison having provided $150 for three years' prizes for oratory, extemporaneous debate and original essays and orations; and a number of prominent Milwaukeeans having established a $100 annual prize for five years to be awarded to the winner of the University oratorical contest.

SERVICES FOR THE VETERANS

REV. CHRISTY SPEAKS TO OLD SOLDIERS.

SAYS BIBLE JUSTIFIES WAR

Able and Fitting Sermon—Love is the Motive of All Conflicts in History

Services in remembrance of the soldier dead of the Civil war were held at the St. Peter's English Lutheran church yesterday morning. Upon the invitation of Rev. Christy the commander of W. H. Sargent Post, Grand Army of the Republic, and members of the Women's Relief Corps of the city attended in a body. In prelude to the sermon Rev. Christy said in part: "We meet today to honor the memory of those who offered their lives as a sacrifice to God on the altar of their country, a sacrifice pleasing and acceptable to God and one which was deemed sufficient to purchase the liberty for which it was offered. The price which God demanded and which was freely paid, no man can compute, for who but God can value the life of a man. Yet man values life according to his own standards, and no man places a higher value upon a human life than he that has offered his own that others might live. In this sense those who I am called upon to address know the value of a life, for not only have they believed the price of liberty strewing the field about them, but have themselves also on many occasions delivered up their God-given claim to life and placed it in the hands of their Maker."

Sons With Fathers. In a measure I am able to appreciate and understand the motives which prompt you to assemble for the purpose of honoring those who have fallen from your ranks, for from a company of men mustered in the hills of Pennsylvania, April 27, 1863, to defend the same flag which you defended, seven never returned to their homes. How many more have joined the ranks beyond as a result of more than a year's service in an unhealthy climate I cannot say, but with you, the fathers, we, the sons, this day honor the memory of our departed comrades.

It is not my purpose on this occasion to rehearse the deeds which the departed have performed, to recall to your minds the scenes of valor and heroism, to pronounce eulogies upon gallant and illustrious leaders or to attempt in any way to add or improve on what has been said and written about them by others. While the tongue or the hand can never portray in its true light the deeds they performed nor proclaim the honor that is due them, it has been your privilege many times to listen to men who have spoken knowingly and eloquently and all that I could say would fail to rise to the importance of the occasion. When the master painter has failed to portray the glories of the setting sun, the attempt of his pupil will be of little worth.

The Bible Text. "But the purpose for which we meet, the place in which we assemble, and the Bible which lies open before me reminds us that we have a treasure of wisdom from which the most simple in mind may draw and be filled with knowledge and power and from which the most learned may derive thought beyond their understanding. I invite your attention to the words of the Holy Writ as found in the first book of Chronicles, the fifth chapter and twenty-second verse: "For there fell many slain, because the war was of God." The first thought that comes to us when we meditate upon this verse is that this war was of God. Divine sanction was here given to the use of arms as the means by which a divine principle was to be established. The second thought is that there fell many slain. No descriptions of the scenes of carnage accompanies the plain and simple statement, the awful details must be supplied by the reader. The third thought is that there fell many slain because the war was of God. In other words it was divine necessity that many be slain, there was the price demanded by God as the price of liberty. Though we are not justified in passing from the specific to the universal we shall endeavor to show in the light of God's word that the price of liberty is the price of many slain.

Three Propositions. There are three propositions to be considered then: The price of liberty is paid in blood; the price of liberty is paid by the innocent and the price of liberty is paid through love. All wars are conflicts of liberation, liberty of thought or will or action, freedom from bondage. The first bondage to which the human race was subjected was the yoke of sin. The very first attempt to mitigate the righteous wrath of God on account of sin was accompanied by bloodshed, not only the blood of the firstlings of the flock that was spilt on the altar was required, but the blood of Abel as well. Throughout the Old Testament we find blood-shedding the central idea upon which every institution to atone for sin was built. Every ceremony instituted by God or resorted to by man required the shedding of blood. And so it has been in the history of the nations. Every righteous principle of government has been established at some time by the shedding of blood. Though the American revolutionists did not fight for all the principles of freedom we have them through inheritance.

Innocent Suffer. Countless thousands of spotless beasts have been slain upon the Jewish altars. The world has many times been drenched in innocent blood because the world had not yet been freed from bondage. The price of liberty is paid by the innocent. Not every hero is dressed in uniform, the mothers, sisters, brothers and non-combatants suffer in the war caused by some ambitious ruler or greedy government. The men in the ranks are also innocent, but only by their service could the afflicted ones be relieved. The little Jap or the big Russian private are not to blame for the present conflict. Thus we come to the precious doctrine of atonement, to free the world, to endow humanity with eternal life it was necessary that the spotless blood of Jesus Christ be shed upon the cross. The height of all emancipations was that won on Calvary. If we cannot compute the value of human life, of what greater value is, how less capable are we to compute the value of the life of Jesus?

Love the Motive. The price is paid through love. Though some may battle because they are prompted by a venturesome spirit, or they may be seeking experience, honor or praise, or because they are ambitious or have a false idea of glory or were drifted into the army the motive which leads the vast majority is love for country, a love so great that all that is dear to them is abandoned for a time and the chance of permanently losing it is taken. The love is for country, principle or home. This is the love that prompts countries to send whole armies to death, but it cannot be compared with the great love that prompted God to give His only begotten Son for the sake of the world.

It would be ungracious not to put aside one day of each year for the remembrance of those who created the inheritance of liberty in various ways for us, but how much more ingratitude is shown by those who forget the love of God. Let us reverse the name of those who saved the country from separation, but let us reverse above that the name of God.

CIRCUS TO ARRIVE EARLY IN MORNING

Small Boys Will Be Able to Tell Particulars at the Breakfast Tables.

Tomorrow the circus will be a reality at the Janesville circus lot. It is the first circus of the season, and the popularity and reputation of the Forepaugh-Sells shows are such as to insure a successful engagement. The program opens with a new military spectacular display, entitled "Panama," or the "Perils of the Sea," which engages the services of hundreds of women and children and scores of magnificent caparisoned horses, described as a series of beautiful tableaux filling the three circus rings, two stages and the hippodrome oval with pictures of America's opening of Panama canal to the nations of the world. Although only intended as an incident of the great show, the introductory spectacle is presented on an elaborate scale, and has proved one of the popular hits of the season. The arena performance that follows is presented by a company of 350 artists, many of whom have never before been seen in this country.

The Walkowsky troupe of 14 Russian acrobatic dancers. The Lowande family of equestrians, Captain Webb's two companies of educated seals, the seven Obriens in their coaching acrobatic novelty—performing on a moving Tally-ho and upon the horses' backs, all the difficult gymnastic feats usually executed upon the ground. The Aurora Zolovs in startling military exploits; Spanish clowns, three herds of performing elephants, a troupe of 15 Japanese acrobats in athletic exhibitions; not the least important feature will be the pantomime merriment of the circus clowns, who, while the rings and stages are occupied by the performers, will circulate in groups through the hippodrome oval, presenting a series of laugh provoking sketches. There are but a few of the many features announced in preliminary proclamations.

...LINK AND PIN... News for the Railroad Men.

General Railway News. On account of decreased business on the Northwestern road brakemen have been dismissed at various points. Four were let out of employment at Baraboo recently.

A supposed insane brakeman violently assaulted Conductor Geo. Bombard of the Northwestern railway with a coupling pin near Eland Junction, Thursday, and the victim is in a serious condition as a result of a blow near the right temple. The assailant escaped.

In order to try to prevent a coup by the Rock Island and the Lake Shore in the matter of carrying through mails to Colorado common points, the Pennsylvania Sunday established a twenty-five-hour train between New York and St. Louis, cutting the time between those two cities by about four hours.

The Supreme Court of Michigan (Blanchard vs. Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company, 103 Northwestern Rep. 179) holds that the automatic coupling act of that state does not require the placing of such couplers on the tenders of locomotives.

An agreement, ratification of which has just been exchanged by the Northern Pacific and Union Pacific, for the development of the New Perceps territory by the building of a joint line into the rich farming country on the borders of Idaho and Washington, involves the construction of about 300 miles of road.

TWO ATHLETES POINT WINNERS

DAVIS AND SMITH TAKE SECONDS IN INTERSCHOLASTIC.

EAST SIDE TEAM VICTORS

Milwaukee School Ran Away from Competitors—Janesville Stood Sixth in Meet.

Janesville was among the fifteen of the thirty-seven contending the state interscholastic track and field meet at Camp Randall, Madison, Saturday, to secure points. With two seconds, totaling six points, she stood in with other schools for sixth place. Floyd Davis, following Hyslop of Whitewater across the tape in the 440-yard dash and Arthur Smith pulling in the finish of the mile run close to Dana of Fond du Lac, were the ones who took honors for the sky blue of the Bower city institution. The other local athletes failed to make good in their events.

East Side Milwaukee Winner. The East Division Milwaukee school, which had been reckoned among the possible firsts in the meet, took the highest number of points, thirty. Eighteen of these were won by Uihlein who took the individual laurels in the contest. He was a stellar contender, for he took not only three first positions and a second but also made excellent records in each instance. Milwaukee South Side was a poor second with 17 points, third place went to Fond du Lac with 12. Fourth was taken by Milwaukee West Side with 11 and Menominee with 8 stood fifth. In the discus event the United States interscholastic record was broken and the state records in the pole vault and shot-put were also shattered. The summaries:

One-mile run—Dana, Fond du Lac, won; Smith, Janesville, second; Dougherty, Fond du Lac, third—time, 4:53-5. 440-yard dash—Hyslop, Whitewater, won; Davis, Janesville, second; Keck, Fond du Lac, third—time, 0:52. 100-yard dash—Meyer, Milwaukee South Division, won; Fox, Milwaukee East Division, second; Homer, Mount Horeb, third—time, 0:10-1-5. 120-yard hurdles—Uihlein, Milwaukee East Division, won; French, Madison, second; Brooke, Evansville, third—time, 0:17-1-5. Discus throw—Messmer, Milwaukee East Side, won, 118 feet 11 1/2 inches; Graas, Sturgeon Bay, second, 114 feet 11 1/2 inches; Seeley, Menominee, third, 111 feet 7 inches. High jump—Wilec, Milwaukee West Side, won; Uihlein, Milwaukee East Side, second; Walkeger, Milwaukee West Side, third—height, 5 feet 3/4 inches.

220-yard hurdles—Uihlein, Milwaukee East Side, first; Fuller, Reedsburg, second; Weisman, Madison, third—time, 0:27. One-half-mile run—Dana, Fond du Lac, won; White, Milwaukee South Division, second; Hunt, Milwaukee East Side, third—time, 2:08. Broad jump—Uihlein, Milwaukee East Side, won, 21 feet 1 1/2 inches; Walkeger, Milwaukee West Side, second, 20 feet 5 1/2 inches; Coorsen, Milwaukee South Side, third, 19 feet 5 1/2 inches.

220-yard dash—Meyer, Milwaukee South Division, won; Gordon, Mount Horeb, second; Hyslop, Whitewater, third—time, 0:22. Pole vault—Springer, Milwaukee East Side, won; Gusschall, Lodi, second; Boyle, Darlington, third—height, 10 feet 6 1/2 inches (new state interscholastic record).

One-mile relay—Menominee, first; Milwaukee South Side, second; Fond du Lac, third—time, 3:40. Shot-put—Dechesne, Sturgeon Bay, first; Beyer, Green Bay East Side, second; Pierce, Madison, third—distance, 147 feet 2 1/2 inches.

RIVERVIEW PARK LADS DEFEATED ASSOCIATION NINE BY CLOSE SCORE.

Saturday morning victory was taken from the Y. M. C. A. junior department nine by the Riverview Park club in a game resulting in the close score of 10 to 3. This is the second conquest of the Riverview club and the third defeat of the Association boys. The Riverview Park battery was composed of Seoville, catch, and McLaughlin and Hans, pitch, and the Association battery positions were held by Campbell, catch, and Richards and Dreyer, pitch. J. A. Ward, in the absence of the regular umpire, officiated. Next Saturday the Knights of the Holy Cross and the Y. M. C. A. nine will be pitted against each other for the second time and the Riverview lads will again meet the Baptist church team.

TRINITY CHURCH BOYS STILL REMAIN UNCONQUERED—BEAT BAPTISTS.

The Knights of the Holy Cross still stand at the head of the Junior League of the city. Saturday afternoon they dealt out defeat to the team of the Baptist church boys' club to the tune of 11 to 3, their third victory. Breasingham, pitch, and Griffiths, catch, negotiated the battery position for the Trinity lads, and Howland, catch and McCaffrey and Erdman, pitch, formed the battery for the opposing nine. The averages in the league are now: Knights of the Holy Cross, 1900; Riverview Park club, 666-6; Baptist Church boys, 323-3, and Y. M. C. A. Juniors, 000.

BELOIT EAGLES DEFEAT JANESVILLE RED SOCKS YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Contest at Crystal Springs Witnessed by Four Hundred People—Score, 6 to 2.

Four hundred people, largely from Janesville, witnessed the defeat of the Janesville Red Stockings at the hands of the Beloit Eagles at Crystal Springs park yesterday afternoon. During the first five innings but one run was made and that by the local team, but in the last part of the contest the Line city sticklers pounded out enough hits to make six runs and played well enough otherwise to allow the red-socked boys to score but once more.

The regular pitcher of the Janesville team was not in the game but the position was well negotiated by G. Schmidt, who struck out ten men. The Beloit pitcher, Burns, secured nine strike-outs. The line-up was:

Red Stockings: Esgies, Swanson, G. Schmidt, Burns, Christian, W. Carle, Britton, Hamm, Hill, Molstad, Welch, P. Schmidt, J. J. Laflin, Brummond, Clark. Beloit substitutes—Hughes for center-field and Hesse for pitch.

GAME BETWEEN MONTEREY AND SECOND WARD TEAM UNINTERRUPTED SUNDAY

East Side Boys Peacefully Defeat Lads From Janesville's Southwestern Suburb.

Bunker hill proved a better place to play Sunday baseball on than the Athletic park yesterday. Here there were no interruptions from owners, nor chases from the police and it was in a peaceful way that the second ward Nationals poured out the defeat dose for the Monterey twirlers. Flynn and Carroll, the Monterey battery and O'Grady and Metzinger holding the battery positions of the Nationals were both backed up by strong aggregations and the result was in favor of the second warders, by a score of 4 to 2. O'Grady umpired the game.

WISCONSIN STATE LEAGUE

Oshkosh 7, Wausau 4. Wausau, Wis., May 29.—Oshkosh defeated Wausau here Sunday by a score of 7 to 4. The Wausau boys played ragged ball, and nearly all of Oshkosh's runs were made on errors, the Wausau catcher being responsible for a majority. Attendance, 2,000. Score:

Oshkosh: .0 3 0 2 0 0 0 2 0—7 8 3. Wausau: .0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1—4 9 5. Batteries—Kramer, Belue and Moore; Fay and Householder.

Freeport 5, Green Bay 1. Green Bay, Wis., May 29.—Errors lost an otherwise interesting game for Green Bay. Rightfielder Lucia stirred the crowd in the fourth by catching a long fly and throwing a runner out at the plate, when the bases were full and no one out. In the seventh Lucia made the error that started four runs. The score:

Oshkosh: .0 0 0 0 1 0 4 0 0—5 6 2. Green Bay: .0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 6 7. Batteries—Malvin and Kannel; Corcoran, Struck and Connors.

Beloit 4, La Crosse 0. La Crosse, Wis., May 29.—Aiken's splendid pitching proved too much for La Crosse Sunday, and though the locals played a brilliant fielding game, they were shut out. Aiken is the only spit ball pitcher in the State league, and for the first time this season he was able to control it. Dodge was hit hard and was unsteady. Score:

Kills Friend for Enemy. Paris, Ill., May 29.—When Charles McMullen rapped on a window of Daniel Flint's home at midnight to waken him to go to work as night engineer at the lighting plant, Flint, thinking it was an enemy who had threatened him, rushed to the door and fatally shot McMullen.

Shot in Running Fight. Sandusky, Ohio, May 29.—William Saddle, one of a trio of men charged with a murderous assault on John Conley, a bartender, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Chief of Police Weingates after an exciting chase in the outskirts of the city.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, May 29, 1865.—Edwin D. Coe and William H. Wilson have been admitted to the bar during the present term of the circuit court. They have been reading law for some time in this city.

We understand that Rev. Fayette Durlin of Ripon, Wisconsin, has accepted a call to Trinity church in this city and is expected to enter upon the duties of rector of the parish on Sunday, the 18th day of June.

The observance of Thursday.—It will be observed that the mayor has very properly issued a proclamation for the suspension of business in this city during a certain portion of Thursday—the day set apart by the President as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer. We believe the day will be generally observed in this community.

Common Council Chamber, Janesville, May 29, 1865. Whereas the President of the United States has appointed "Thursday, June 1st, 1865, as a day of humiliation and mourning, etc.," I therefore recommend that all places of business in this city be closed on that day between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.—during which time services will be held in the several churches—notice to the effect having already been given. JNO. MITCHELL, Mayor.

Melancholy Suicide.—Mrs. Olive

Woodman, wife of Capt. E. E. Woodman of the 13th regiment, well known in this city, and daughter of E. T. Gardner, Esq., of Monroe, Wisconsin, committed suicide by shooting herself at her father's house, on the 20th inst. Mrs. W. who was highly esteemed by all, has suffered much from a nervous disease, accompanied by those mental symptoms which lead to insanity. Her husband, who was tenderly attached to her, arrived at his home from the south where he had been in government service a few hours after she had committed the fatal deed.

Display of Articles at Lappin's Hall.—The show of articles designated for the Northwestern Fair, on exhibition at Lappin's Hall on Saturday afternoon and evening, was highly creditable to the good taste and industry of the ladies of Janesville. The articles were valued at $500. The net proceeds of the admission fee at the door and the sale of strawberries and ice cream in the evening was something like $50. This was for the benefit of the Milwaukee home.

The music on the occasion was by the Power City band, and not by Loudon's band as was erroneously stated by our paper on Saturday afternoon.

The ladies who had this matter in charge desire us to express their thanks publicly to Mr. Lappin who furnished the hall and gave his services gratuitously, and also to the band for their excellent music.

Opportunities at Oacoma, S. D. The town of Oacoma, Lyman county, South Dakota, is located on the west bank of the Missouri river, opposite Chamberlain. With the completion of the Lyman county extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, Oacoma will become the distributing and shipping point for a populous and productive area larger than the state of Vermont. The town site is beautiful, well drained, has the advantage of railway and steamboat transportation and is bound to become one of the most important trade centers of South Dakota. About June 1 there will be a sale of town lots of 10 acres each, offering excellent opportunities for profitable investment. Business men who are seeking good locations for mercantile enterprises will do well to identify themselves with Oacoma. Watch for dates of excursions for the sale of Oacoma town lots.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

His Purpose Was Right

Griffo was a dancing bear—that is, he was supposed to dance and was frequently prodded by his master in his attempts to make him. But Griffo's movements were more like moving a house than dancing, for Griffo's heart was heavy. His life had never been a happy one. Early in life he had been taken from home and had an iron collar riveted about his neck, was dragged from town to town, kicked and snuffed and half starved till life became unbearable.

"What use am I?" he sadly said. "I do no good to any one, except, perhaps, this drunken master of mine, who spends everything at the saloon for drink. I shall run away and find something to do that is worth while, something useful to the world. But where shall I run?"

HE GAVE A MIGHTY YELL.

Looking down, he saw that his master was dozing. He quietly pulled the chain out of his hand, and, seeing a large hole in the roadway not far off, he made a bolt for that. Crawling down a long passageway, he saw a light.

"Well!" he exclaimed. "What have we here? An adventure, at any rate." The light grew brighter as he came near and showed a large chamber under ground in which an Irishman was working with a pick and shovel, digging a passage for the subway. "My, this looks like home down here," said Griffo, "and, as this fellow and I are the only persons present, I shall speak to him and ask him if he knows something I could do to be of use."

As he said this he rose on his hind legs and walked toward Pat, who, hearing a sound behind him, turned. As he did so he gave a mighty yell: "Oh, oh, oh! The saints protect us! Help! Help! I'll never touch a drop of rum again so long's I live!" And, dropping his shovel, he ran out of the shaft and did not stop till he reached his home.

"Mary, Mary!" he cried. "Give me the pledge quick till I sign it. I've seen the 'old boy' himself. I'll never drink again!" And poor Griffo never knew the good deed he had done.—Atlanta Constitution.

APRIL REPORT.

The commerce of the United States (imports and exports) during the month of April established a new high record for that month, the total being valued at 255 million dollars, as against 195 millions in April, 1904; 157 millions in April, 1903; 197 millions in April, 1901; and 194 millions in April, 1900. Prior to 1900 there is no instance in the history of our commerce in which April imports and exports aggregated as much as 180 million dollars, the highest levels reached during the past five decades being 80 millions in Apr., 1869; 100 millions in April, 1872; 145 millions in April, 1880; 179 millions in April, 1897; while for April of the present year the total was, as above indicated, 255 millions of dollars.

A notable feature of this marked growth in the commerce of the United States is the sustained preponderance of exports, despite the ever-increasing home demand for manufacturers, agricultural, and other products. April exports amounted to $129,358,229, the highest record ever made in April of any year, exceeding by 9 millions the best record made in April of any preceding year, viz., 120,400,000, the total reached in April, 1901. April imports were also unusually large, being valued at 95 2-3 millions of dollars as against 101 1-3 millions in April, 1897, the banner April in the record of earlier years. Reviewing April commerce in the period from 1875 to 1905, imports have grown much less rapidly than exports. In 1875 the April imports amounted to 46.5 millions, in 1885 that month showed a total of 48.8 millions; in 1895 65.4 millions; and in 1905, 95 2-3 millions. April imports having thus increased but 52 millions or 119 per cent over the total shown by April, 1875.

Meantime exports have grown from 39.6 millions in April, 1875, to 53 millions in April, 1885, 65 1/2 millions in April, 1895, and 129 1-3 millions in 1905, the last-named month showing an increase of 89.7 millions, or 237 per cent, as compared with April, 1875. The balance of trade has frequently shifted from one side to the other during the past thirty years, usually resting on the export side, especially since 1897. April, 1875, showed an excess of imports over exports amounting to nearly 4 million dollars; by April, 1885, the balance had so shifted as to show an excess of exports of over 4 millions; April, 1895, showed an excess again in favor of imports, amounting to about 3 1/2 millions; and April, 1897, showed an excess of imports of 23 2-3 millions, this abnormal balance on the side of imports being due to the importations in anticipation of the new tariff measure then pending. Since 1897, however, exports have shown an excess over imports during every month of the year, the amount of that excess, however, varying from 97 million dollars, the high record made in December, 1903, to 7 1-3 millions in August, 1902, the lowest point reached since July, 1897, the initial month in the unbroken period of preponderating exports extending from that date down to the present time. The excess of exports over imports during April of the present year was 33 7-10 million dollars, as against 26.4 millions in April of the preceding year.

The falling off in exports noticeable in the earlier months of the present fiscal year has entirely disappeared, so that the ten months already elapsed show a total exportation of 1,275 million dollars, or but 2 2-3 millions less than that of the corresponding ten months of the preceding year. Imports during the last ten months were valued at 935 million dollars, as against 829 millions in the ten months of the preceding year.

Details showing the articles contributing to the high record made by our commerce during April are not yet available, but comparatively accurate information as to their character may be obtained through an analysis of the commerce of March and of the nine-months period ending with March 31, 1905. During March, the closing month of that period, products of agriculture contributed 51 per cent, manufactures 37 1/2 per cent, and other products 5 1/2 per cent.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Togo and Rojevskensky are a long time getting at it, but at least there is some satisfaction in the fact that neither of them is doing much talking.

Whitewater Register: Wisconsin has two and a quarter million people, and they are divided into two per cent of the total exports; and of the imports, manufacturers' materials supplied 47.6 per cent, articles of food and animals 26.9 per cent, manufactures ready for consumption 13.8 per cent, and luxuries and articles of voluntary use 11.7 per cent of the total. Applying these proportions to the April exports, and adding the figures thus obtained to the actual totals for the nine months, it may be assumed that of the domestic exports during the ten months ending with April agricultural products amounted to about 710 millions, as against 779 millions last year; manufactures to about 440 millions, against 372 millions last year, and other articles 104 millions, as against 106 millions last year.

On the export side agricultural products thus show a decrease of about 69 millions of dollars and miscellaneous articles 2 millions, a combined decrease of 71 millions. Manufacturers, however, show an increase of nearly 68 millions, so that the net decrease in total exports during the ten months is but 2 2-3 million dollars, with indications that by the end of the fiscal year this decrease will have entirely disappeared and been supplanted by a small increase.

Of the imports during the ten months of the present fiscal year manufacturers' materials supplied about 434 millions, as against 381 millions last year; articles of food and animals, about 240 millions, as against 194 millions last year; manufactures, ready for consumption, 138 millions, as against 142 millions last year; and articles of voluntary use, about 124 millions, as against 112 millions last year. The growth in imports extends throughout each of the great groups, with the exception of finished manufactures, amounting to about 53 millions in manufacturers' materials, 46 millions in food products and animals, and about 12 millions in luxuries and articles of voluntary use, while manufactures articles ready for consumption show a decrease of about 4 millions in comparison with the corresponding ten months of the preceding year.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The state legislature has set aside a date for dying sine die and for this we should be glad. It has been a remarkable legislature taking it all in all. For length and blockheadedness that is, Wisconsin is fast becoming the joke of the neighboring states for its fool legislation and perhaps in time to come the present generation may look back to this foolish period of our existence and smile. Not only has the present legislature spent thousands of dollars of the state's funds, but it has made laws that will cost the state thousands of others besides. Taking it all in all it is a good thing that the legislature only meets once in two years and then has some limit to its existence.

SHOULD CELEBRATE.

The mass meeting of citizens last Thursday night decided that Janesville should celebrate the Fourth of July. If it is so decided everyone turn in and make the day a success. Janesville has an enviable reputation as a place to come for a good time all over the country. With a good first class celebration to attract them it should be a drawing card for thousands to come and enjoy themselves. The hat, figuratively speaking, will be passed around among you and each one should chip in liberally for the good cause. Remember it helps Janesville. It will bring money to the city, put money in the city in circulation and will in every way live up matters.

Tomorrow is circus day. It might be well to remember that there are people who make it a business of following circuses who are not particular whose property they appropriate providing they can get it without being caught. Knowing this it would be well to keep your doors and windows locked when you leave home.

The Chicago teamsters have run out of funds and are now asking the unions in New York and Boston to aid them in their fight against the employers.

The Japanese and Russians do not yet appear to have found just where the other side is at. Since the great fight in Manchuria the war news has been secondary to the Chicago strike.

Tomorrow is Decoration Day. Once a year we stop in our daily toil and pay respect to the departed soldier dead who gave their lives that we might be one people now and forever.

Bryan, Denen and La Follette seem to be a trio of reformers with folk to close fourth that are making the fur fly in four states.

So the university has gotten its bit of the state pay in the shape of six hundred odd thousand dollars a year contribution from the taxes.

Despite the strike in Chicago people down there seem to seek amusement as much as over.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Was it the lobbyists that defeated that $5,000 appropriation out of the public funds to pay private attorney fees?

El Paso Herald: A Missouri paper has published the ten commandments. Missouri may be a trifle slow but she intends to get all the news some time.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Togo and Rojevskensky are a long time getting at it, but at least there is some satisfaction in the fact that neither of them is doing much talking.

Whitewater Register: Wisconsin has two and a quarter million people, and they are divided into two classes—those that are on state commissions and those that are not.

Chicago Examiner: Banker Bigelow who stole $4,000,000, has been held for trial under bail of $25,000. Earnestness of that kind indicates that if he is finally found guilty he will be severely slapped on the wrist.

Chicago Record-Herald: Philadelphia's city council now threatens to impeach Mayor Weaver for fighting the grafters. Evidently the city councilmen have reasons for believing that a majority of the people of Philadelphia are still asleep.

St. Louis City Journal: Kansas farmers want college boys to help harvest the wheat crop. Possibly some college boys who didn't do the harvesting stunt last year may go out and work for some Kansas farmers who didn't employ college labor last year.

Racine News: The Igorrotes will indulge in dog feasts for the benefit of the Corey Island public this summer. Between the example of the Igorrotes and the machinations of the dog trust we may be converted to a canine diet yet.

Kansas City Journal: "As a matter of fact," says The Chicago Tribune, "there is no fruit more delicious and wholesome than the prune." A bold and reckless statement to make right in the midst of the strawberry season.—The Tribune rejoinder: So bold, in fact, that The Tribune never made it. Somebody has been filling up.

Delavan Republican: General Manager Clough reports that during the year 1904 the Rockford, Beloit & Janesville Interurban railway carried 592,181 passengers and the gross passenger earnings were $130,501.66. He says the road is a financial success and that he will soon have something to say to the directors about extending the line to Delavan.

Fond du Lac Bulletin: Ex-Banker Bigelow and family of Milwaukee will spend the heated term at a private summer residence near Oconomowoc, kindly offered to them by a Milwaukee man. They will thus be able to continue living in the luxurious style to which they have become accustomed while using the bank funds for speculation and for their running expenses.

Madison Journal: "Iker" Karell knew when he let football alone (namely, when his school days ceased) and now he is a Milwaukee attorney with real clients, has been to the legislature and is the head of a big insurance office. It's a wise man who can gather the prestige of being a great halfback without the finger-pointing suspicion among business men that he isn't anything else.

Milwaukee Free Press: This man Weaver of Philadelphia was a "gang" man until the gang got too rank for him. He was considered to be pretty bad, and was very bad—so bad, in fact, that all of the clergymen of the town joined some months ago in setting apart a day for praying for him; praying for "Stupid Weaver" as he was named in the prayers. Who will ever again say prayers are not answered?

New York Tribune: Governor Dozen of Illinois has signed a bill which makes mob violence a crime in that state. The bill provides penalties for participation in the work of a mob endeavoring to lynch or punish a person charged with a crime, and makes the county liable for damage done to property or person, and also provides for the removal of the sheriff in such cases from office for a failure to protect his prisoner. The new law will go far toward putting an end to mob violence in Illinois.

Cleveland Leader: "The Sunset Magazine" tells a story of the rehabilitation of the character of Johnson Sides, a noted Indian temperance orator of bygone days. One day he was caught in the act of drinking a glass of whiskey and was fined. Neither Indians nor whites would listen then to his temperance speeches. Poor Johnson was in despair. One day, however, he had an inspiration. He asked Senator Doolin, of the Nevada legislature, to absolve his sin by act of legislature. Senator Doolin was agreeable, and introduced and carried through "Senate Joint Concurrent Resolution No. 11," which is as follows: "Resolved, by the senate, the people of the state of Nevada concurring, that the drink of whiskey taken by Johnson Sides on the 17th day of September, in the city of Virginia, County of Storey, be and is hereby declared null and void." Thus was Johnson Sides made a good man again. He became at once a power among his own people, resumed his advocacy of the cause of water and was listened to with great respect.

Green Bay Gazette: Steffens' characterization of Philadelphia as "corrupt and contented" seems to fit that city no longer. Much is required to rouse Philadelphia but they are evidently roused at last, and present indications are that the corrupt politicians of the city will get a part, at least, of what is coming to them.

Marquette Eagle-Star: The government has been investigating the operations of the paper trust and if the matter is probed deeply enough there is little doubt that the fact will be established that a good share of the profits which should have gone to the newspaper because of the increased business developed by the push and energy of the publishers has gone into the coffers of the paper makers.

Kansas City Journal: In breaking down the barriers between the sexes the women are beginning to practice toward men the same intelligence that they formerly reserved for each other. Men no longer as a rule give up their seats in street cars to women because they have been taught, by painful experience that the women as a class no longer appreciate the courtesy. In doing so they are rarely rewarded with even a glance and almost never with a word of thanks. The man who lifts his hat when he offers his seat is often frozen with a stare which implies a doubt as to his sanity or his motives. The time may yet come when the man who lifts his hat to a woman except upon a society dress parade will be regarded with contempt for his mental stiffness.

Cleveland Plain-Dealer: Two demands are just now beginning to make themselves felt, one for a more sane celebration of the Fourth of July and the other for a more reverent observance of Memorial day. These two holidays, radically different in origin and spirit, are now celebrated in much the same fashion, which in the case of Memorial day is unbecomingly and little short of sacrilegious. Only Memorial day in the spirit in which it was originally set apart. As a rule, it is given up to sports and frivolity, or dissipation of one kind or another, and is observed in a reverent and becoming manner only by those to whom the civil war, with its suffering and sacrifice, is a living, ever-present memory. It was perhaps inevitable that this should be so, but the fact is not the less deplorable.

La Crosse Chronicle: Mr. W. E. Curtis writes from New York that Russell Sage, the aged financier, is sinking slowly, and that it will be but a short time until he will have to part with his hoard of $100,000,000 which he loves so well. According to Mr. Curtis, Mr. Sage is probably the single most influential man ever produced in this country ever produced. There have been misers as there have been many respects as Mr. Sage, but they lacked the opportunities which have fallen to the lot of the millionaire to illustrate just how stingy a man may become. It is related that Mr. Sage has two suits of clothes, one for week days and the other for Sunday, and he has worn these suits as long as his intimate friends can remember, and as for an overcoat he has not had a new one for fifteen years. His old beaver hat was purchased some twenty years ago. He never paid car fare in the elevated road, of which he was a director, because he could not gain consent to part with 5 cents. He made the bootblacks on the elevated stations shine his boots under the threat that they should be removed from the station if they refused to do so. He stole his newspapers from news stands at Reclor and Fifteenth street every day for more than a generation. And now the old miser has reached the age of 59. He has accumulated a hundred million. It is said he has always refused to make a will because he could not bear to think about the possibility of parting with his money. He has lived a life devoid of some of the plainest comforts, and his wife, it is said, has hardly received the allowance that falls to the lot of the wife of an average mechanic. A man like Sage accomplishes very little of good for the human race.

Fly Casting.

Emerson Hough writes as follows in "The Country Calendar for June, the new outdoor magazine published by the Review of Reviews Book Company:

"To learn to cast a fly is a matter of a day if you observe, wise counsel, of a lifetime if you do not. In the first place, it is not you who are going fly-casting. It is the god which is going. You are simply an incident. The rod looks upon you for a long time with an august but amused tolerance.

"In the second place, a fly-rod is not a perishable thing. You cannot break it. It is tremendously strong, absolutely invulnerable. It is a splendid, kindly, long-suffering creature, or rather creature—strong, patient, and gentle. "In the next place, you are concerned with only one-third of this rod which has you in tow—let us say the upper one-third. At the base of that upper one-third you are to attach your brain, your calm intelligence, your soul. At that base of operations your detached soul must look backward and forward.

"Furthermore, gaze upon your wrist. It is not yours properly. It is a part of the rod, a very beautiful part. Half of the time it is absolutely rigid, the other half perfectly free and supple, lax, easy, obedient.

"You ought now to know that a cast is made of two parts, and that the greater muscular energy goes into the first half. You cannot have a good front-cast if your back-cast is bad. The trouble with you has been that you have thought of the front-cast all the time, and not taken any account whatever of the back-cast. The rod knew better all the time. If you relax properly, you will learn that the rod is doing all this, and not you yourself. It knows its business. You don't. Make it all easy, light, slow, deliberate."

Saloon Man Advises Thrift.

Sam Hey, a saloonkeeper who had kept a place in Bradford, England, and died recently, would give workmen only one drink on payday till they had been home. He used to say: "You must go home and give your wife your wages. You may then come back and have another drink when you have washed yourself and brushed up." The English workman does not "clean up" before leaving his workshop.

FORCH BANK TO PAY TO GAIN CHARTER

Members of New York Senate Committee Are Alleged to Have Divided $8,000 Bribe Privilege.

New York, May 29.—An extraordinary story of legislative bribery has come to light in connection with the dissolution of the Bank of the Commonwealth in Brooklyn. It is alleged that one or more of the promoters of the bank paid $8,000 in cash to certain members of the state senate committee on banks. The money is said to have been paid to one member of the committee, who took $2,000 as his share and gave $2,000 each to three other members of the committee.

The $8,000 was paid, as alleged, for "smoothing the way" for the granting of a charter to the Bank of the Commonwealth. The money passed about three days after the bank opened.

It is also alleged that these same four members of the state senate committee on banks attempted to hold up the organizers of the Home Trust Company of Brooklyn, which was applying for a charter at Albany at about the same time. It is said that $15,000 was demanded from the organizers of the Home Trust company.

J. Edward Swannstrom and the other prominent and reputable financiers who were connected with the Home Trust company refused to pay $15,000 in the senate committee on banks. Instead, they fought the "graffers" to a standstill and got their charter. The institution is one of the most flourishing in Brooklyn.

Promising Young Players

Phil Lewis, Star College Shortstop, on Ed Hanlon's Team---Takes Keeler's Place in Hearts of Fans---Daniel Hoffmann, Mack's Clever Outfielder.

No young ball player ever made a better start in the National league than Phil Lewis, who is playing shortstop for the Brooklyn club.

The young collegian's work, particularly in the field, has been brilliant, and he is easily the most popular player.

PHIL LEWIS, BROOKLYN'S SHORTSTOP.

er with the Brooklyn fans the club has known since the days of Willie Keeler. Lewis is a protégé of Hughie Jennings, one of the greatest shortstops the game has ever known, and he plays the position like Jennings used to play it. He has a good arm and plays a very deep field, deeper, Manager Ned Hanlon says, than any shortstop he has ever seen.

He goes at the ball like Jennings. He has the Orioles' manager's trick of taking the ball on the run when he is covering second and touching the runner; also, like Jennings, he is a great hauler of thrown balls.

Lewis played on the Cornell university nine, which Jennings coached, for several years. Major league clubs tried to sign him, but he refused to do any business except through Jennings. Last season he played with the Baltimore club of the Eastern league and made a fine record. Last fall he was drafted by Manager Clark Griffith of the New York Highlanders.

It was discovered later that the entire Baltimore team had been "covered up" by the Brooklyn club. The national commission decided that Lewis belonged to Brooklyn. After this decision the entire outfit was returned to Baltimore with the exception of Lewis and Pitcher Eason.

Daniel J. Hoffmann, the crack outfielder of Connie Mack's Boston Athletics, is another youngster who has "made good." As will be seen by the following narrative of his career, Hoffmann is comparatively "new" to major league ball.

This rising young player was born in Canton, Conn., in 1880 and learned to play ball in Torrington, Conn., which whose independent team he made more than a local reputation. In 1901 he was given a trial by Manager Roger Connor of the Waterbury club and "made good."

In 1902 Hoffmann went with Connor to Springfield and that season led the Connecticut league batsmen. In 1903 he was signed by the Athletic club, of the American league, and used as utility outfielder. In 1904 Hoffmann was made the regular center fielder of the Athletics and led the team in batting until July, when he was hit in the eye by a pitched ball from Tannhill in Boston and laid up for the balance of the season. Later he recovered the use of his eye and played in a few games in the last week of the season, demonstrating that he would be in shape to play again in 1905.

Sanders' Stable.

Famous Trainer Has Thirteen Horses at Memphis---Tom Axworthy.

While a great many horsemen are superstitious about the number thirteen, Millard Sanders, the eminent trainer, always regards it as good luck. This year he has thirteen horses in his stable at Memphis. All of them were sired by Axworthy, one of the best sires in this country.

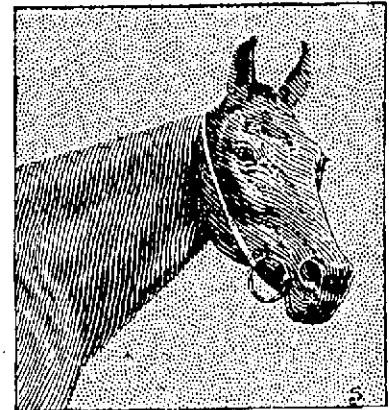

Tom Axworthy, 2:08 1/4, will be started several times, and perhaps late in the season Sanders may race one or two of his youngsters. Tom Axworthy is up against much tougher racing propositions than last year. Still, Millard thinks he is the best trotter eligible to the 2:00 class.

This horse was purchased last fall by F. G. Jones. He won six races in three weeks and wound up the season by having the fastest record of any four-year-old gelding raced in 1904.

There is a three-year-old colt in the barn of the name of Flying Axworthy that is considered the best three-year-old seen in many a day. This youngster is perfectly gaited and can trot in such a style as would make many a person think he was one of the eligibles for the free for alls instead of the colt races. He wears nothing but his harness and light quarter boots. He is a dark, rich bay in color, is well muscled, but is a trifle small. This colt was sired by Axworthy and is out of Belleflower, 2:12 1/4, by Electioneer, his second dam being the great brood mare Beautiful Bells.

Besides Flying Axworthy, Sanders has five three-year-olds, and some of them are above the average. Nelly Worth is a three-year-old sister to Tom Axworthy and is gaited a great deal like her brother. Nova Worth, Fanny Worth, Dolly Worth and Lady Worth are the rest of his three-year-olds. Each has a nice way of going, and there is no doubt that from this lot there will be two or three that will be able to show a fast clip by the time of the fall meeting here.

The only four-year-old in the stable is Tanner Worth, named in honor of Charles Tanner of Cleveland. The best two-year-old that has shown so far is Nelda Worth, a full sister to Tom Axworthy. This filly can fairly trot a hole in the air and a few days ago stepped a quarter in 25 1/2 seconds. This filly is of better conformation than her brother. Another good two-year-old is Hilda Worth, out of the fast pacing mare Bellwood A., 2:07 1/2. This filly is the best looker in the barn, but is not quite as fast as Nelda. The other two-year-olds are Effie Worth, a chestnut filly, out of Evonia, by Jerome Eddy; Octavia Worth, a chestnut filly, out of Octavia, 2:18 1/4, by Bardon Wilkes; and Bale Axworthy, a chestnut colt, out of Laurel B., dam of Laurels, 2:13. One of the most touted trotters at the track is the six-year-old bay gelding Jack Wilkes, 2:21 1/4, in the stable of Vance Nuckols.

Ruberto, by Parole, which two years ago as a three-year-old took a record of 2:25, is now considered as a promising candidate for the 2:10 class. Ruberto's dam was Molly Bird, dam of Little Dock, 2:12 1/4, by Jay Bird, and his grandam was Emma G., 2:38 1/4, dam of Emma E., 2:09, by Almont, 33. Last year he was worked carefully by M. L. Williams of Pekin, Ill., with the idea of racing him this season, and while he has never been struck out, he has been eighth in fifteen seconds and halves in 1:05. Williams will fit the gelding for some of the important races this year.

The Oregon man who bought the pacing stallion Hal B., 2:04 1/4, recently is August Erickson of Portland, who owns a band of highly bred brood mares, including Dietatress, 2:03 1/4, by Dictatus. Mr. Erickson in the past has bred his mares to such stallions as Joe Patoben, 2:14 1/4; Searchlight, 2:03 1/4; Diablo, 2:09 1/4; Zombro, 2:11, etc., and the fillies produced by them from those sires will probably be bred to Hal B. when old enough.

Leading Golfers Going to Mexico. Harry Vardon, James Braid, Sandy Herd and J. H. Taylor will be among the British professionals who will be found at the San Pedro Golf club, City of Mexico, in the international tournament which will be played there next season. All the prominent American professionals will play, and the amateurs will include Walter J. Travis. The City of Mexico has taken up the game with a vengeance.

The Boston American Plant. President Ban Johnson says he knows of no more complete plant in the country than the American league plant in Boston.

Geers Has Fast Trotter. Ed Geers has been a mile in 2:11 1/4, last fall in 1:03 1/4, with the trotter George G., 2:06 1/4.

Excursion Tickets to McHenry County Teachers' Association, Woodstock, Ill., via the North-Western Line, will be sold at reduced rates June 2 and 3, inclusive, limited to return until June 5, inclusive. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R.R.

JOYS OF MATERNITY

A WOMAN'S BEST HOPES REALIZED

Mrs. Potts Tells How Women Should Prepare for Motherhood

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to childless and lonely old age. Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to a displacement of the womb or lack of strength in the generative organs.

Mrs. Anna Potts

Frequent backache and distressing pains, accompanied by offensive discharges and generally by irregular and scanty menstruation indicate a displacement or nerve degeneration of the womb and surrounding organs. The question that troubles women is how can a woman who has some female trouble bear healthy children?

Mrs. Anna Potts, of 510 Park Avenue, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

"My dear Mrs. Pinkham: During the early part of my married life I was delicate in health; both my husband and I were very anxious for a child to bless our home, but I had two miscarriages, and could not carry a child to maturity. A neighbor who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it. I did so and soon felt that I was growing stronger, my headaches and backaches left me, I had no more bearing-down pains, and I felt like a new woman. Within a year I became the mother of a strong, healthy child, the joy of our lives. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a splendid remedy, and I wish every woman who wants to become a mother would try it."

Actual sterility in woman is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free to expectant or would-be mothers.

BJORNSON SPEAKS FOR UNITY

Scandinavian Alliance Should Follow Norwegian Independence.

Aalborg, Province of Jutland, Denmark, May 29.—Bjornstjerne Bjornson, the Norwegian poet and dramatist, who is visiting here, addressed a meeting on the Norwegian crisis. He said he desired to see the Norwegian, Swedish and Danish races united. They numbered altogether only 10,000,000 souls and must hold together. "Norway," he declared, "must become free, as the other northern races are. Until she is free and independent it will be impossible to deal with the next great question, how we small states are to arrange our future."

Chilian Cruiser Founders.

Santiago, May 29.—The Chilean cruiser Presidente Pinto has foundered in the Gulf of Ancud, North of the Island of Chiloe, off the southern part of the coast of Chili. Captain Whitehead, when he saw that his ship was lost, shot himself.

Respects Jewish Rites.

Vienna, May 29.—The government has overruled a recent decision of the municipality prohibiting the slaughter of cattle according to Jewish rites, which alleged that the method employed entailed undue suffering.

Women Wash the Streets.

It is not an unusual sight in many of the German cities to see women cleaning the streets. On the way to the opera in the afternoon one may see women hard at work cleaning a street, even in the blinding rain.

The Food Value of a Soda Cracker

You have heard that some foods furnish fat, other foods make muscle, and still others are tissue building and heat forming.

You know that most foods have one or more of these elements, but do you know that no food contains them all in such properly balanced proportions as a good soda cracker?

The United States Government report shows that soda crackers contain less water, are richer in the muscle and fat elements, and have a much higher per cent of the tissue building and heat forming properties than any article of food made from flour.

That is why Uneeda Biscuit should form an important part of every meal. They represent the superlative of the soda cracker, all their goodness and nourishment being brought from the oven to you in a package that is proof against air, moisture and dust—the price being too small to mention.

MRS. E. HALL

Indigestion and Dyspepsia Cured and Appetite Restored.

Mrs. Susie Morton, of 1307 So. 11th St., Birmingham, Ala., wishes every woman in the world to read what she knows of our medicine, and this is what she writes us under date of July 13, 1904: "I have improved wonderfully in health since using your Seven Barks and Globe Pills. The Globe Pills are the best thing I ever tried. They do not gripe at all, and keep the bowels in good condition. Before using the Seven Barks I was troubled very much with indigestion and dyspepsia, but now I can eat anything and I am as strong as I ever was in my life. I hardly know how to thank you for the good your medicines have done me. I wish every woman in the world could read what I am now writing and be cured."

We've sold Seven Barks for years and don't know of a better remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. There's this much about it—it's been curing people of the worst forms of stomach troubles for 35 years, and when ever it fails to cure, the person has only to return the bottle (no matter how much or how little has been used) and get their money back. It's more than likely that your case requires similar treatment to that of Mrs. Morton. Why not take Seven Barks and get cured? Deposit 50 cents with us, the price of a full-sized bottle, take it as directed, and if not perfectly satisfied with the results, we're here to refund the price.

Think you for one moment we'd risk our reputation on a remedy that hadn't already proven its efficiency?

THE MODERN SILKEN GOWN

A charming design for reception or dinner frock is the one of the illustration. One of the satin finished one-seam crepes, in a dull shade of rose, is fashioned with a draped bodice, the crepe being deeply pleated at the side seams, and drawn in upward turning lines to the center of the bust. The neck is cut out in V-shape a back and front, and bouillonne bands fashioned over leatherbone cordings define the décolletage and crossing on the bust are caught to the top of the very much pointed girle. The sleeve is a very full affair, pleated to the armhole (this cut demands a dress shield), and shirred on the center to increase the fullness. Its short career ends at the elbow, where a black velvet ribbon band serves to most to the waist.

The skirt is shirred to the band, a few rows of stitching serving to avoid the fullness in place over the hips. Three deep puffed bands are applied at knee depth, each on flaring at the lower edge where it is caught to the preceding one; and the full circular flounce that finished the skirt is draped with a shirred and corded flouncing applied in very deep and wavy lines. The Paquin flounce upon the drop skirt serves to hold the sheer and supple outer skirt in shape, and gives that smart flare at the foot that is the hall mark of the present Parisian production.

CHAPTER VI.

LIFE AFTER DEATH.

At eight o'clock in the evening of the same Friday, Medical Examiner Jarrett sat at his desk in the office at his house, busily writing.

"Upon making a careful and complete examination of the body of the man named Paul North, I find that a ball, probably fired from a revolver of 32 caliber, at an angle of probably 20 degrees, and from a distance not exceeding three feet, entered his back near the spinal column at the seventh intercostal space on the right side, and passed in an inward and upward direction, going through the upper portion of the liver and completely through the lower lobe of the right lung.

"The path of the ball was not arrested, showing that it was fired in the direction indicated. It pierced the lung nearly opposite the third rib and left the body on the front side, just above the rib named.

"I do not find that the said Paul North could have committed suicide. The position of the entrance of the ball, and its direction, seemed to deny this possibility.

"There was ample external hemorrhage to have permitted the man to have written the words on the wall of the room in which he was found. If so, immediately the writing was concluded, he no doubt died.

"Death was painless, and resulted from internal hemorrhage, caused by the opening of an artery in the right lung."

The ringing of the office bell suspended the report of the autopsy over Paul North's body at this point.

Dr. Jarrett rose to meet his caller, recognizing him at once as the reporter whom he had met a few hours previously at the house in Marlboro street.

"Ah, Thomas," he said, "still on the case, eh? A very good story, that of yours in the afternoon paper—very judicious indeed."

"Thanks," the reporter answered. "And now I want you to help me get out an equally good story, or a better one, for the morning. The autopsy was performed at the City Hospital morgue, of course. Can't you give me the report?" Dr. Jarrett shook his head and rubbed his chin.

"There isn't a man I would sooner give out the report to than you, Thomas, but it wouldn't do to have it published before it's submitted. All I can say at this point really is that I have no doubt whatever that murder has been committed."

Mr. Thomas fingered his watch chain. "Not a word more," he queried. "I'll tell you what I'll do, Thomas," the medical examiner answered, after a meditative turn up and down the hall. "You have kept a good many important secrets when the work of the authorities couldn't have been done without your silence. I'll tell you who assisted in the autopsy. You could interview him without mentioning my name in the matter."

A broad smile illumined the reporter's face, and he presented the medical examiner with a very comprehensive wink.

"Dr. Francis Huntress is the man," continued the examiner, confidentially. "He has an office where he lives, at No. 1—Greenwich Park."

"I know him well," said Mr. Thomas, and there was full justification for the words in the friendly greeting accorded to him at the surgeon's door.

Two minutes after he had pulled at the bell handle, Thomas was comfortably ensconced in an easy-chair in the doctor's study, the physician sitting opposite to him at his desk, where a drop light burned.

"You are the most extraordinary fellow," the surgeon exclaimed, admiringly, after Thomas had stated his mission.

TAINTED BLOOD

Columbus, Ohio, May 19, 1935. Some four years ago I was suffering from impure blood and a general run-down condition of the system. I had no appetite, was losing flesh, and had an all-gone tired feeling that made me miserable. I began the use of S. S. S., and after taking seven or eight bottles my skin was cleared of all eruptions and took on a ruddy, healthy glow that assured me that my blood had been restored to its normal, healthy condition. My appetite was restored, as I could eat anything put before me, and as I regained my appetite I increased in weight, and that "tired feeling" which worried me so much disappeared, and I was once again my old self. I heartily recommend S. S. S. as the best blood purifier and tonic made, and strongly advise its use to all those in need of such medicine. VICTOR STRUBINS, Cor. Barthman and Washington Aves.

Wheeling, W. V., May 23, 1935. My system was run down and my joints ached and pained considerably. I had used S. S. S. before and knew what it was, so I purchased a bottle of it and have taken several bottles and the aches and pains are gone, my blood has been cleansed and my general health built up. I can testify to it as a blood purifier and tonic. 1533 Market St. JOHN C. STERN.

"Was the writing horizontal? Did it run just parallel with the footboard?"

"Just about."

"If a man had directed this writing from a higher point, Thomas, he would have written back handed. How was the slope of the letters?"

"Natural."

"And have you seen any specimens of North's handwriting? Does he form his letters that way?"

"Yes; as nearly as could be expected under the circumstances."

"Then I should say," said the surgeon, rising, "that it is more than probable that North wrote it."

"But with a wound like that," suggested the reporter, "death must have been instantaneous."

"Ah, there you have failed to distinguish between speedy death and instantaneous death. What is commonly called instantaneous death—from a shot in the heart, for instance—is by no means such. A second is an hour to a dying man. On the other hand, the severing of the spinal column by a bullet would actually cut a thought in two. Man goes into the presence of his Maker under such circumstances without an instant to prepare himself. But in a case like North's we must take into consideration the power of the human will to prolong life."

"No. But with thought in a man of strong purpose would come quick determination and the power to act, even at that moment. You must bear in mind

THE SURGEON SCRUTINIZED THE SCRAWL WITH GREAT INTEREST.

That Mr. North's death was caused by the filling of his lungs with blood instead of air. It was a painless death, and Mr. North's will power would have enabled him to prolong his life 60 seconds—perhaps even 180 seconds—ample time for the writing of this name on the wall, as you can see. Take the name 'Paul North'; trace it slowly, as if you had to dip your finger in the writing fluid four times. There. Now time yourself. How long did it take you?"

"Just 20 seconds," said Mr. Thomas.

"Exactly. Now you understand the possibilities in this matter of the writing; and I tell you, Thomas, this talk with you only confirms and emphasizes my belief that here you have a great case—one of the most extraordinary in my experience. If you can put what I've told you to good use, I shall be glad; but mind, I shall not look to see it in the morning papers."

The surgeon had arisen and was accompanying the reporter to the door. Thomas stopped him by a restraining gesture.

"By the way, doctor, stand just as you are. Now will you put your finger on that part of your body corresponding to that where Paul North was shot?"

The surgeon obliged him. Thomas, standing behind him, made several rapid measurements and calculations with his eye and hand.

"There is something decidedly curious here, doctor," he said. "Stand behind me, please. Suppose me your intended victim, if it's not too great a strain on your imagination. Now see where you must hold your pistol to comply with all conditions—within three feet, pointed upward at an angle of 20 degrees!"

The surgeon, who hastened to attempt the experiment, uttered an exclamation of surprise.

"Curious how much a man may miss when he thinks he has observed the whole, sometimes," he said. "Why, I never thought of this before."

"What, doctor?"

"The man who fired that ball must have been upon his knees."

"Precisely! Precisely!" exclaimed Thomas. "Just my thoughts exactly. What sane person would fire a pistol at a man in any such direction in an erect attitude? It would be almost equally absurd if the assassin had been seated."

"You are right," returned the surgeon, thoughtfully. "He might have been crouching behind some article of furniture."

"Or been previously knocked down!" Thomas interposed, turning a very meaning look upon the surgeon's face.

"So, indeed! That would indicate, then, a struggle to your mind?"

"It would indicate that the murderer fired in self-defense, or from momentary passion induced by North's treatment of him."

TROOPS CLOSE THE SALOONS

Gov. Folk Tires of Half-Way Measure and Will Enforce the Law.

SOLDIERS WILL BE CALLED OUT

Four Men Will Be Detailed for Duty at Each Place Where Liquor Is Sold—Sheriff to Force Blue Laws for All.

St. Louis, Mo., May 29.—Militia in all probability will be ordered to St. Louis county next Sunday to enforce the Sunday closing law as a result of flagrant violations of Gov. Folk's orders in that district Sunday. Practically every saloon in the county and the gardens, except the Meramac Highlands and Delmar gardens, sold liquor openly and no arrests were made.

The saloonkeepers of the county were emboldened by a decision given in the court of criminal correction of St. Louis to the effect that the excise commissioner cannot revoke licenses without a trial by jury. The decision is regarded as insuring the removal of the "lid" in St. Louis at an early date and as the end of the era of the "dry" Sunday.

Battery to Guard Bars.

Battery A of St. Louis is expected to be detailed for this duty in the county. The members of the battery would welcome active service of any kind after their long period of inactivity since the war. The present plan, as explained by one close to the governor, is to send four soldiers to each saloon, two to stand guard at the front door and two at the rear or side entrance, from next Saturday midnight until Sunday midnight.

Several arrests were made in St. Louis for violation of the closing law, and it is said that many more places did a back-door business under police protection. Liquor men are openly asserting that the "lid" is "off" and that the court's decision has deprived Gov. Folk of the only weapon he has with which to enforce his closing order.

Nails Down the Lid.

Out in St. Charles county, which has absolutely ignored the closing law, Sheriff Waldo Hines took drastic action in response to a letter from Gov. Folk notifying him that if the law was not enforced militia would be sent into the county. The sheriff, who believes in no half-way measures, closed up every saloon, barber shop, confectionery, fruit stand, cigar shop and general catering establishment, and gave strict orders to drug stores that no tobacco, candy, gum or soda water should be sold.

On next Sunday Sheriff Hines declares he will force the street railway and the telephone exchanges to stop operation.

"If we are to have blue laws in St. Charles county we will have them with a vengeance," remarked the sheriff with a grim smile. "I don't believe in enforcing the law against one fellow, and letting another go scot free."

FRICK PLANS A FAREWELL FEAST

Millionaire Employs Swell Caterer to Give Dinner to His Friends in the Smoky City.

New York, May 29.—Henry Clay Frick, the Pittsburgh millionaire, will give one of the most notable dinners ever given in this country next Friday, when he bids adieu to the smoky city as his home. He has leased George W. Vanderbilt's residence at Fifth avenue and Fifty-first street for a term of ten years and will make his home here.

Four hundred invitations have been sent out for the farewell dinner in Pittsburgh. All the viands will be shipped from New York by private car. Walter N. Bussell, caterer for the Newport Casino, has been engaged to prepare the feast for 400 persons and his instructions are to spare no expense.

Already the caterer has stripped his furnishings from the walls of the Newport Casino grillrooms and shipped them by fast freight to Pittsburgh. He will send a corps of skilled decorators to that city and go himself to superintend things.

YOUNG MAN WHO WOULD HAVE GRADUATED THIS YEAR FROM THE UNIVERSITY SUCCEUMS

Said Death of Thomas Joseph Palmer of Harmony Occurred in Chicago.

Thomas Joseph Palmer, a young man much respected by all who knew him and one of the senior class in the law department at the Wisconsin university, who was to have graduated this year, died in Chicago last Friday evening. He leaves to mourn his death a father, mother, three sisters—Miss Mary Palmer, Mrs. D. O'Connor of Chicago and Mrs. William Dinnig of New York city—and a brother—Dr. John Palmer of Gray's Lake, Ill. The remains were brought to the home of his parents in the town of Harmony and funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at half-past ten o'clock from the immaculate Conception church in Milton. Burial will be in Mount Olivet cemetery in this city.

ATLANTIC WINS THE GREAT OCEAN RACE

American Yacht Will Carry Off the Kaiser's Cup—Is Reported Off Coast.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-MORAE.]
Scilly Island light station, England, May 29.—The American yacht Atlantic, Captain Charles Barr commanding, passed to the eastward of signal station 959 this morning, apparently the winner of the race for the Kaiser's cup.

Late News
On board Scripps-Morae tug, via wireless telegraph to Lizard, May 29.—The yacht Atlantic was plainly visible at five o'clock, thirteen miles from the finish line. The schooner will probably cross the line about 7 o'clock this evening.

For World's Bantam Title.
London, May 29.—Between the approaching Derby, which is to be run tomorrow, and the fight between Jem Bowker, the world's bantam champion and Pinky Evans, of New York, to take place before the National Sporting Club tonight, the sport high society of Great Britain is in high place. The terms of the Bowker-Evans bout are twenty rounds at 116 pounds. Bowker, it will be remembered, won the bantam weight championship from Frankie Neil in the United States; a couple of months ago, Evans has everything to win and nothing to lose in the mill. If he is defeated he will not be much out, but if he wins he will be the champion of his class. Bowker can gain nothing by whipping him, but the big end of the purse.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—Willie Fitzgerald, of Philadelphia, is matched to fight Jack O'Keefe here tonight. The men will clash for ten rounds at 135 pounds.

Gardner to Box Stiff.
Ogden, Utah, May 29.—George Gardner, of Lowell, Mass., and "Billy" Stiff, of Chicago, will meet here tonight in a ten-round bout.

American Girls Play Golf Abroad.
London, May 29.—Some of America's best women golfers are contestants in the annual women's golf championship of Great Britain which began today at Cromer, near London. Against them are pitted some of the best English women players, including Miss Lottie Dodd, who visited the United States last fall as the guest of Mrs. Clement Griscum, of Philadelphia. It is the first time that the links of the Royal Cromer Golf club have been used for an annual championship game. The links is of eighteen holes on the Lighthouse Hills, to the east of the town, which is a favorite seaside resort. The present champion is Miss Dodd. The American players are Miss Georgiana Burnett, of New York; Miss Margaret and Harriet Curtis, of Boston; Miss Emily Lockwood and Miss Mooly Adams, also of Boston; Miss Griscum, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Samuel Bettie, Philadelphia, who is chaperon of the party.

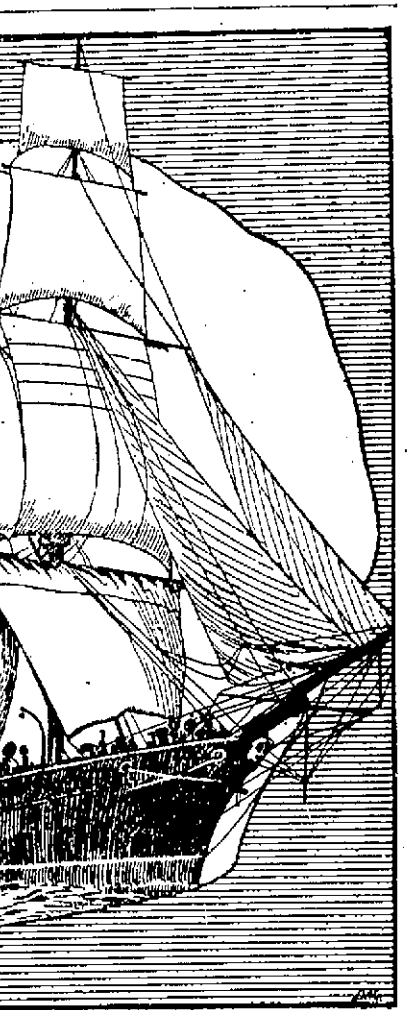

Actress to Lecture in Church.
Salt Lake City, Utah, May 29.—A pleasant and unusual compliment has been paid to Mrs. Minnie Madden Fliske, the actress, by the people of Salt Lake, and as an outcome of the tribute the popular actress will lecture in one of the largest churches in this city tonight on "Present Conditions in the Theatre." Owing to the fact that the theatrical syndicate controls all the theatres of this city Mrs. Fliske is unable to appear here. When it became known that she would pass through Utah on her way to her clinic course, a petition was sent her to stop over in Salt Lake City long enough to deliver a lecture in one of the churches. Mrs. Fliske accepted and the proceeds of her tonight's address will go to a local charity.

Mr. Hay in Paris.
Paris, May 29.—Mr. John Hay, the American Secretary of State, arrived here today for a stop of two days. Much speculation has been aroused by the arrangement for Mr. Hay to meet M. Delcasse, the French Foreign Minister, but Mr. Hay's only purpose is to make a visit of courtesy upon M. Delcasse, who will make the first call upon Mr. Hay.

Supreme Court Adjourns.
Washington, May 29.—The United States Supreme Court adjourned today until the fall term which begins

October 9. It is not expected that a decision regarding the right of the New York board of tax commissioners to assess the franchises of public-service corporations as real property for purposes of taxation will be rendered next October. To the country generally the question is one of importance, because students of the situation profess to see in this act a buffer against the demands for public ownership of public-service corporations.

Ohio Socialists.
Columbus, Ohio, May 29.—The state convention of the Socialists of Ohio began here today. A full state ticket will be nominated and municipal ownership will be one of the principle planks in the platform. There are about one hundred delegates in attendance. Many of the Socialists do not agree with Tom Jenkins' ideas of municipal ownership and have nothing in common with his views on the subject.

FEDERAL UNIVERSITY URGED BY COUNCIL

Call Is Made for New Energy on Part of Educators to Push the Frye Bill.

Washington, May 29.—The executive council of the national committee of 400 to promote the establishment of the University of the United States, after consideration of the efforts made by its members to unite the various university organizations at Washington in one great university of the highest rank and their final failure through the prevailing influence of local and denominational forces, has issued a statement declaring it to be the duty of the National Educational committee and of the National Educational association and others interested in the higher education to devote themselves with new energy to the early establishment of the university of the United States on the basis of the bill introduced by Senator Frye at the last session of congress. The committee says that no university organization yet chartered can meet the demands of the country for such a university at the national capital as shall be national, non-denominational and nonpartisan, graduate in all departments and closely related to other American educational institutions, all to "make of Washington a chief center of learning for the world."

Vaughn After Empire Cup.
New York, May 29.—Guy Vaughn, the first motorist to challenge for the 1,000-mile cup offered by the Empire City Club today started a 1,000-mile race at the Club's track, driving a 40-horse power racing car. He expects to beat Wriggway's record of 25 hours and 50 minutes, finishing in time for the opening race at the track tomorrow afternoon.

Philadelphia Horse Show.
Philadelphia, Pa., May 29.—With a record-breaking list of entries the ninth annual exhibition of the Philadelphia Horse Show Association opened at Wissahickon Heights today. The largest number of entries of any individual exhibitor are those of Reginald Vanderbilt, who has 30. His horses were a feature of the show last year and will likely again carry off some of the honors this year. During the show there will also be held the first meeting of the new society formed by prominent society men of Philadelphia and neighboring states whose object is to encourage the breeding of Dalmatian dogs.

Big Shortage in Bank's Accounts.
Lorain, Ohio, May 29.—The report of the auditors of the recently failed Citizens' Savings Bank shows total assets, $278,976; total liabilities, $322,800. The shortage is $102,470, to meet which the bank has $68,650.

Three Children Drown.
La Crosse, Wis., May 29.—While bathing near here three children were drowned. They were Alexander Assytin, aged 9; Theodore Wright, aged 12, and Henry Wright, aged 14.

Wouldn't Need It.
"Here's a phonograph," Dobbinson said. "That'll sell for a song, on the dead; The reason I sell it Is—I hate to let it go. But the fact is, I'm going to be wed!"

THREE BREAK JAIL

Former Convict Leads in Escape From Prison at Shelbyville.

SECOND TRIAL IS SUCCESSFUL

Bars of Cell Window Are Cut With Saw, and Descent to the Ground Is Made With Rope of Towels.

Shelbyville, Ind., May 29.—Liston Frady, a noted former convict, who has been connected with several post-office robberies and is known to the police throughout the country, escaped from the jail here Saturday night in company with Herschell Sullivan and "Young" Grissom, the latter a colored lad. The escape was made by sawing the bars of a cell window and descending twenty-six feet to the ground by means of a rope made of towels.

The flight of the prisoners is supposed to have occurred about midnight, but was not discovered until Sunday morning and the authorities have discovered no trace of them. A reward for their recapture has been offered by Sheriff Newton.

Second Attempt to Escape.

Frady, who has served a sentence in Michigan City penitentiary, was under indictment for burglary and for two months has been awaiting trial. Four weeks ago he was discovered sawing the bars of his cell, then on the ground floor, and to prevent confederates from supplying him with another set of tools he was removed to the second tier. He has a record as a jailbreaker, having escaped from imprisonment at Anderson and Franklin.

Recently Herschell Sullivan was recaptured at Louisville, Ky., having escaped while serving a jail sentence here for assault and battery with intent to kill, and placed in the same department with Frady and Grissom, a colored boy of 12 or 13, who is charged with larceny.

Sullivan a Local Rough.

Sullivan is known as a dangerous character, but has no criminal record beyond several fights in which he severely injured his antagonists. His relatives reside here.

It is believed that he and Frady compelled Grissom to join them in the escape to prevent his giving an alarm and that they parted company with him as soon as they cleared the city.

DEVELOPING FINE LEGS.

People of Town Built on Hillside Have to Do a Great Deal of Climbing.

It was one of the merits of the feudal system that it developed the legs of princes and people alike. The baron always set his castle on the summit of a hill, so that the capture by an enemy would be a difficult task, says Harper's Magazine. His retainers—ironically so called for the reason that he never allowed them to retain anything of value—built their huts on the slope of a hill outside of the castle walls, where they could hope for the protection of their lord. The mediaeval town was therefore a town that slanted more or less abruptly, and its inhabitants were continually going up or down hill, to the great development of their calves. We sometimes wonder how knights and men-at-arms in the feudal period could have borne the weight of their armor. It was manifestly because of their constant practice of climbing their hillside streets and thus developing and hardening their muscles.

These reflections inevitably occur to the visitor to Subiaco. The town is built on the sides of a steep hill that rises abruptly from the middle of the valley. The hill is crowned by the usual castle. Many of the streets are simply stairways, and most of the others are as steep as coal chutes. Walk anywhere in Subiaco and you see above you the continual passing of legs of all sorts and conditions. It is nearly as hard to descend the streets as it is to climb them. You need not wonder that the typical Subiaco leg is finely developed, and much affected by artists desiring model legs for Samson.
